

FINAL TRIBUTE TO THE MAINE DEAD

THIRTY-FOUR BODIES, LAST OF VICTIMS OF HAVANA HARBOR HORROR, INTERRED.

NATION HONORS ITS MARTYRS

Ceremonies at Arlington and Washington Are Second Only in Importance to McKinley Funeral—Thousands Pay Homage.

Washington, D. C.—With reverent and impressive ceremonies, final tribute was paid in this city to the memory of the officers and men who went down in the battleship Maine in Havana harbor 14 years ago. Side by side with thousands of other "unknown dead" 34 bodies were laid under the sod in the national burying ground, Arlington cemetery, while President Taft, members of his cabinet, other high government officials, officers and men of the army and navy and 5,000 citizens stood with uncovered heads.

The funeral service was read by Rev. G. Livingston Bayard, chaplain of the Washington navy yard, assisted by Rev. Father John P. Chadwick of New York, who was chaplain of the Maine at the time of the fateful explosion.

Preceding the service at the cemetery, was a solemn procession from the White Lot, the park behind the White House, where the ceremonies began. In the size of the escort and official exercises, the funeral ranked second in the history of the country only to that of the late President McKinley.

The thirty-four buried were the last of the martyrs recovered from the Maine wreck, the other 227 having been taken out shortly after the explosion, when they were identified, shipped to their several former homes in different parts of the country and buried in separate private funerals by their families. The last 34 bodies, however, which had lain under Havana harbor for 14 years, could not be identified, so the one great funeral was arranged as a tribute to the nation to her heroes. Before noon the cruiser Birmingham arrived at the Washington navy yard with the remains of the men recently taken from their watery tomb. At three o'clock they were taken, on 34 caissons, to the White Lot, where a distinguished gathering, headed by President Taft, awaited, in stands draped in the national mourning.

Among those in the stands were Rear Admirals Charles D. Sigbee and Richard Wainwright, who were captain and executive officer, respectively, of the battleship Maine, when the explosion sent the vessel to the bottom of the harbor and carried with her the gallant officers and men. There were also men and women from all over the country.

Each caasket was carried to the scene of the services on a separate caisson. These were sent here from army posts all over the country. During the procession, a field gun stationed at the Washington monument fired 21 minute guns.

The pallbearers were enlisted men of the navy, and the honorary pallbearers members of the United States Spanish War Veterans.

At the conclusion of the services at the White Lot, the funeral procession formed and marched to Arlington cemetery, across the Potomac.

FLOOD CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE

Hundreds of Houses Are Flooded and Thousands of Feet of Lumber Washed Away.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Although no lives were lost, the crest of the great flood in the Ohio, which passed here, did a great deal of damage in the valley. The highest point reached by the water was 28.1 feet, 6.1 feet above flood level. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad station in Allegheny was completely submerged. Hundreds of houses were flooded. On the South Side landslides were reported in all directions. Many manufacturing plants were compelled to shut down. Thousands of feet of lumber was washed away.

Seamen Vote to Return to Boats.

Cleveland, O.—Bitter warfare waged on the great lakes since the calling of a general strike against vessel owners of the lake carriers association in April, 1909, is ended.

Union lake seamen, in a referendum vote, expressed their desire for peace by voting to work on "open shop" vessels. William Curry, Cleveland business agent of the seamen's union, received word from Chicago of the result. Action of the union seamen affects 15,000 men. They now can ship on lake carriers association vessels without losing union cards.

Train Kills Mother and Child.

Chicago, Ill.—The coroner is investigating the death of Mrs. Mary Sealeth and her daughter Helen, nine, who were struck and killed by a Burlington passenger train at Congress Park, a Chicago suburb. The woman and the little girl had just stepped from a Chicago train.

The Denver Limited, running at a high rate of speed, passed the station just then. Confused, Mrs. Sealeth stepped in front of the train. Mrs. Sealeth was thrown 50 feet and her daughter was hurled further.

URGES PAY FOR WIVES

MRS. HARVEY W. WILEY THINKS THEIR WORK DEMANDS WAGES.

Says: Some Society Women Never Have Penny of Their Own for Spending Money.

WHAT WAGES OF PROMINENT WIVES WOULD BE.

Wages of prominent wives, based on one-third of their husband's salaries as proposed by Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, wife of former chief chemist of the United States, Mrs. William Howard Taft, wife of the president, $25,000.
Mrs. James S. Sherman, wife of the vice president, $4,000.
Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Stimson, Mrs. Meyer, Mrs. Wickham, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. MacVeagh and Mrs. Nagel, wives of the seven married cabinet officers, each $4,000.
Mrs. Edward D. White, wife of the chief justice of the United States, $5,000.
Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of Speaker Clark, $4,000.
Mrs. Oscar Underwood, wife of Representative Underwood of Alabama, $2,500.
Mrs. Robert Owen, wife of Senator Owen of Oklahoma, $2,500.
Mrs. George Dewey, wife of Admiral Dewey, $4,500.
Mrs. Leonard Wood, wife of the chief of staff United States army, $2,800.

Washington, D. C.—"I do not think the time is far away when laws will be passed giving the wife and mother who toils long hours in the home without the recompense of a single penny, a salary, based on her husband's income."

This statement was made by Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, wife of the former chief of the United States bureau of chemistry. Mrs. Wiley was speaking of the radical plan suggested by Prof. Nathaniel Schmidt of Cornell. She believes that the wife's wage should, when possible, be one-third of the husband's salary and never less than one-fourth. It might be that some of that salary might have to come back to the home again to procure comforts and pay some of the expenses but then the joy of giving from her earned money would be hers, explained Mrs. Wiley. "Right now the wife is the only hard working human animal who gets nothing for her 10, 12, sometimes 16 hours of hard labor a day. Perhaps she is given board and lodging, but even servants get more than that."

"I have known women in Washington society who go from week to week with never a penny of their own for spending money. They are industrial slaves, dependent for every necessity of life upon the whims and good nature of their husbands. I can really see no reason, however, why a mother should get more salary than a wife who has no children. A woman's duty to her child is on such a high plane that the financial question cannot enter there. Of course, she often gives up outside duties and works harder when the little ones come, but her pay for this will come from the children themselves. It is the duty of every woman to learn a profession or trade to support herself and aid the family if necessary. Nevertheless the husband should be responsible for the wages of the busy mother or the sickly wife."

WON'T MARRY SICKLY COUPLES

Dean of Chicago Cathedral Will Require Health Certificate Before Tying Knot.

Chicago, Ill.—Dean Walter T. Sumner of the cathedral of St. Peter and Paul, delivered a sermon upon the "Sacrament of Marriage," during which he made the following announcement:

"Beginning with Easter, no persons will be married at the cathedral unless they present a certificate of health from a reputable physician to the effect that they are normal, physically and mentally and have neither an incurable or communicable disease. This step is taken after a long study."

"Fighting Marine" Is Dead.

Washington, D. C.—Capt. Robert Francis Wynne, known among the officers and men of the marine corps as the "fighting marine," died at the home of his father, former Postmaster General Robert J. Wynne. The official cause of death was given as tuberculosis. Captain Wynne, in his nine years' of service, received five medals for bravery in action, three in the Boxer campaign, one in the Philippine insurrection and one in the fighting about Guantanamo, Cuba, during the Spanish war.

Burglars Get Valuable Loot.

New York City.—Four masked burglars broke into the rooms of a coffee house known as the Saratoga Club in W. 27th street in the morning and cracked a safe containing jewelry and money of a value of $4,200. Before beginning operations on the safe the robbers menaced Alfred Luftgarden, a waiter in the cafe with their revolvers, tied him to a chair, gagged and blindfolded him. No trace of the cracksmen has been discovered by the police.

Will Marry Father-in-Law.

Boston, Mass.—The engagement of Mrs. Katherine M. Bryer, widow of Charles A. Bryer and daughter of George C. Flett, chairman of the Belmont board of selectmen, to her father-in-law, Frank A. Bryer, of Sandwich, N. H., has just become known here.

Charles A. Bryer was killed March 29, 1910, by a locomotive which struck a carriage in which he was driving. Mrs. Bryer's mother-in-law, Mrs. Frank A. Bryer, died some months later.

REFUSE DEMANDS OF THE ENGINEERS

RAILROADS DECLINE TO GRANT ANY INCREASES IN PAY TO THEIR EMPLOYEES.

GRAND CHIEF STONE TALKS

Head of Brotherhood Says He Is Neither Disappointed or Surprised at Reply Made by Vice Presidents and Managers.

New York City.—The committee of 12, consisting of vice presidents and general managers representing about 50 railroads appointed to draw up an answer to the demands of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers for an increase in wages, declined to grant any increases. To this the conference committee of the Brotherhood, headed by W. S. Stone, grand chief engineer, replied that the engineers reaffirmed their demands and if the managers had nothing further to offer the entire matter would be submitted to the engineers represented for their final action. The curt reply to this note by J. C. Stuart, vice president of the Erie and chairman of the committee of 12, was that the conference committee of managers could add nothing to its reply and trusted the matter would be given full consideration when the entire question is submitted to the engineers for their final consideration.

The roads affected are those known as the Eastern District railroads. They are those roads north of the Norfolk & Western and east of Chicago. The great systems involved are: The New York Central, the Pennsylvania, Erie, Delaware & Lackawanna, Jersey Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Ontario & Western, New York, New Haven & Hartford, Boston & Maine, Long Island, the Wabash East and many smaller lines. These roads do more than one-half the traffic of the United States. Twenty-five thousand, seven hundred and thirty-two non-union engineers.

"Our committee cannot call a strike," said Chief Engineer Stone, "but it can order a referendum to be taken on the question of calling one. The engineers are in good condition for a strike. I am not talking strike, however, since I do not believe in strikes if they can be averted, but we believe our demands are just and right. I am neither disappointed nor surprised at the reply. I have outlived all that. It will take a two-thirds vote to declare a strike and I have the power to veto it if declared."

In their answer to the demands of the engineers the managers showed that the proposed increase in pay would amount to a total annual increase of $7,553,792.74 or 18.63 per cent, the equivalent of a lien over first mortgages of $188,844,818 or 4 per cent securities. The growing traffic, they assert, has overtaxed the existing facilities and to grant the increase would be to make it impossible for many roads to raise money needed for betterments. With some, the managers say, the increase would spell bankruptcy.

The fact of forced reductions in rates by the interstate commerce commission is cited as showing how the earning capacities of the roads are hampered. The fact that the engineers received an increase in 1910 is referred to. This increase was in the face of a proposed advance in rates which the interstate commerce commission would not allow.

BALL PLAYERS HURT IN WRECK

Nine Members of Detroit Team Are Injured in Collision on Southern Railroad.

Vicksburg, Miss.—Nine members of the Detroit American league team were injured in an accident which occurred while a train on the Vicksburg, Shreveport & Pacific railroad was climbing the hill from the Mississippi river. The train came up the incline in two sections and as the first section was under a tunnel, the second section, which was being shoved up the incline by a switch engine, crashed into the first section, which had been stopped on account of a broken air hose.

Bandits Kill American, Wound Two.

Pekin, China.—Further details have just been received here of the attack upon the American teachers which resulted in the death of Bert Hicks of Oshkosh, Wis., and the serious wounding of Phillip Hoffman of Ohio, and A. N. Sheldon of California. The Americans were attacked by pirates while exploring the gorges of the Yangtze river in a small boat. Soldiers and a doctor were hurried from Ichang to Wushan, but before they reached the scene of the tragedy they met Hoffman and Sheldon struggling with the body of Hicks.

"Phantom Bandits" Kill Three.

Paris, France.—Three additional human lives paid toll to the "phantom bandits," the most notorious band of criminals that has operated in France for years. The Chantilly branch of the Bank of the Societe Generale was robbed of a large sum of money.

For bloodthirstiness and boldness the crimes have seldom been paralleled. The police are without clues. They have abandoned the following of an automobile stolen by the robbers after they had murdered one of the occupants and wounded another.

CONVICT LOST TO WIFE

MAN FINDS THAT WOMAN WEDS ANOTHER ADMIRER.

Declares He Pleaded Guilty to a Theft That Spouse Confessed She Had Committed.

New York City.—The old, old story of a man lost to his wife and friends and the wife becoming the beloved of another came to light when Francis Tully—convict No. 5256—surrendered to the police. He is bitter against the world, for he imagined during his many dreary years in the Eastern penitentiary at Philadelphia, the bliss of the past would again appear when he saw his wife. Instead he found her the happy companion of another man. And then—like Enoch Arden—he turned his face. He told his story to the police and now he will return to prison. Tully told the police that he had been a clerk in the employ of the Standard Oil Co. in Philadelphia and lived happily with his wife until one day three years ago the police entered his house in search of stolen property. She confessed to him that she had been a thief.

"To save my wife," said Tully, "I pleaded guilty to the theft and was sentenced to six years in the penitentiary. I served until a few days ago when released on parole. One of the requirements of my freedom was that I remain in Pennsylvania. I have broken my parole and so I must return to prison and serve the remainder of the sentence. Why did I break my parole? It was because I ascertained that my wife was here in New York. I came and learned that another man had won her heart—telling her that my sentence to prison was similar to the granting of a divorce. I no longer have a place in her heart. This is why I want to return to prison."

HOLDS SENATE OBSOLETE BODY

Congressman Lindbergh Prepares Resolution Abolishing the Upper Branch of Congress.

Washington, D. C.—Holding the United States senate to be an obsolete body and out of touch with the people, Representative Lindbergh of Minnesota has prepared a resolution for an amendment to the constitution abolishing that august assembly and providing for a radical change in the existing form of government.

Mr. Lindbergh would have the house of representatives consist for all time of 300 members elected at large in proportion to population, this body to have the sole power of originating and passing legislation.

In place of the senate Mr. Lindbergh would establish a board of review of 15 members elected at large for a term of 15 years and subject to recall. This board would pass on all measures adopted.

In the event of rejection of any measure by the board it would require a two-thirds vote of the house to reenact the legislation.

Members of the house are to serve for seven years but be subject to the recall.

WOMEN AS DEPUTY SHERIFFS

Measure Is Passed by New York State Senate Which Allows Fair Sex to be Appointed.

Albany, N. Y.—"At last the senate has passed a woman's suffrage act," said Senator Timothy D. Sullivan. The upper house just approved his bill which permits the appointment of women as deputy sheriffs in New York City.

"Even if the legislature says women cannot vote, I propose to make sure they can be appointed to office," said Sullivan. "Many of the sheriffs of office cases involve women. It is sometimes very embarrassing for women to deal with men deputies. My bill gives women deputies exclusive right to attend to cases in which women are interested."

SHOOTS THEN CHOKES WIFE

Husband Kills Woman When He Hears of Alleged Visits of Another Man to His Home.

Paducah, Ky.—A chance remark by his twelve-year-old daughter at the dinner table warned James Uzzle, 38, owner of a transfer company at Metropolis, Ill., opposite Paducah, of the visits of an alleged affinity of his wife, Lenora, 30. While the daughter clung to him in an effort to save her mother Uzzle sent five bullets into his wife's body. Then he used the last cartridge to put a bullet into his own forehead. He crawled to the side of his wife and observing that she was still breathing, choked her until neighbors interfered. The woman died two hours later. Uzzle's wound is considered fatal.

A call for physicians was sent to the tuberculosis sanitarium and infirmary building Tuesday night, when the men, one after another, became violently ill. Yesterday a large number of the prisoners were confined to their cots.

Deputy Supt. Mack reported the matter to Charities Director Cooley and samples of the food used in the evening meal Tuesday were taken to the office of City Chemist Taussig and City Bacteriologist Howard.
